Introduction

This timeline is a visual representation of the history, present and future of the world according to the Bible. It is based on the events described in the Bible, and it is not intended to be a scientific or historical document. The timeline is divided into three main sections: the Old Testament, the New Testament, and the Future. The Old Testament section covers the events from the creation of the world to the time of the prophets. The New Testament section covers the events from the birth of Jesus Christ to the time of the apostles. The Future section covers the events from the present to the end of the world.

The timeline is also divided into different colors to represent different periods of time. The Old Testament is represented by the color blue, the New Testament is represented by the color green, and the Future is represented by the color red. The timeline is also divided into different symbols to represent different events. For example, the creation of the world is represented by a globe, the flood is represented by a boat, and the crucifixion is represented by a cross.

The timeline is a work in progress, and it is constantly being updated as new information becomes available. If you have any questions or comments about the timeline, please feel free to contact me.

Creation

The creation of the world is described in the first chapter of the book of Genesis. According to the Bible, God created the world in six days and rested on the seventh day. The first day of creation was the day when God created the heavens and the earth. The second day of creation was the day when God created the firmament, which is the sky. The third day of creation was the day when God created the land and the seas. The fourth day of creation was the day when God created the sun, the moon, and the stars. The fifth day of creation was the day when God created the birds and the fish. The sixth day of creation was the day when God created the animals and the first man and woman, Adam and Eve.

The creation of the world is a very important event in the Bible, because it is the beginning of the story of God's relationship with humanity. The creation of the world is also a very important event in the timeline, because it is the beginning of the history of the world.

Adam

Adam was the first man created by God. He was created on the sixth day of creation, and he was created from the dust of the ground.
